7. Organization, equipment and instruction of SO groups at strategic points within the Peninsula in preparation for invasion by the enemy.

8. Cultivation of high official personages (political, military, naval, clerical, et cetera) for the purpose of encouraging and developing anti-Axis and pro-American sentiments and laying the basis for active cooperation in the event of enemy invasion or of internal changes threatening friendly relations with the United States.

9. Organization and supervision of CI operations intended to uncover enemy agents and their activities in the Peninsula and to protect SI and SO activities.

10. Penetration of enemy communications by mail, courier or telegraph and the procurement of codes and ciphers and texts of cipher messages.

11. Cautious dissemination of rumors intended to disturb, disarrange and hamper enemy activities within the Peninsula as, for example, rumors casting doubt on the security of enemy communications, the inviolability of codes and ciphers, the identification of undercover agents, et cetera: to wit, M.O. operations.

12. Development within the Peninsula of plausible cover for additional O.S.S. personnel to be introduced from abroad in connection with business, financial, cultural, technical or other forms of ostensible activity.
